

Course Overview

In the context of the Distributed System 15-640, we want to give the illusion that we operate the file system in local machine, even if it's actually operated on the remote server.

While, here, DBMS wants to give the illusion that we are operating with the database entirely in memory.

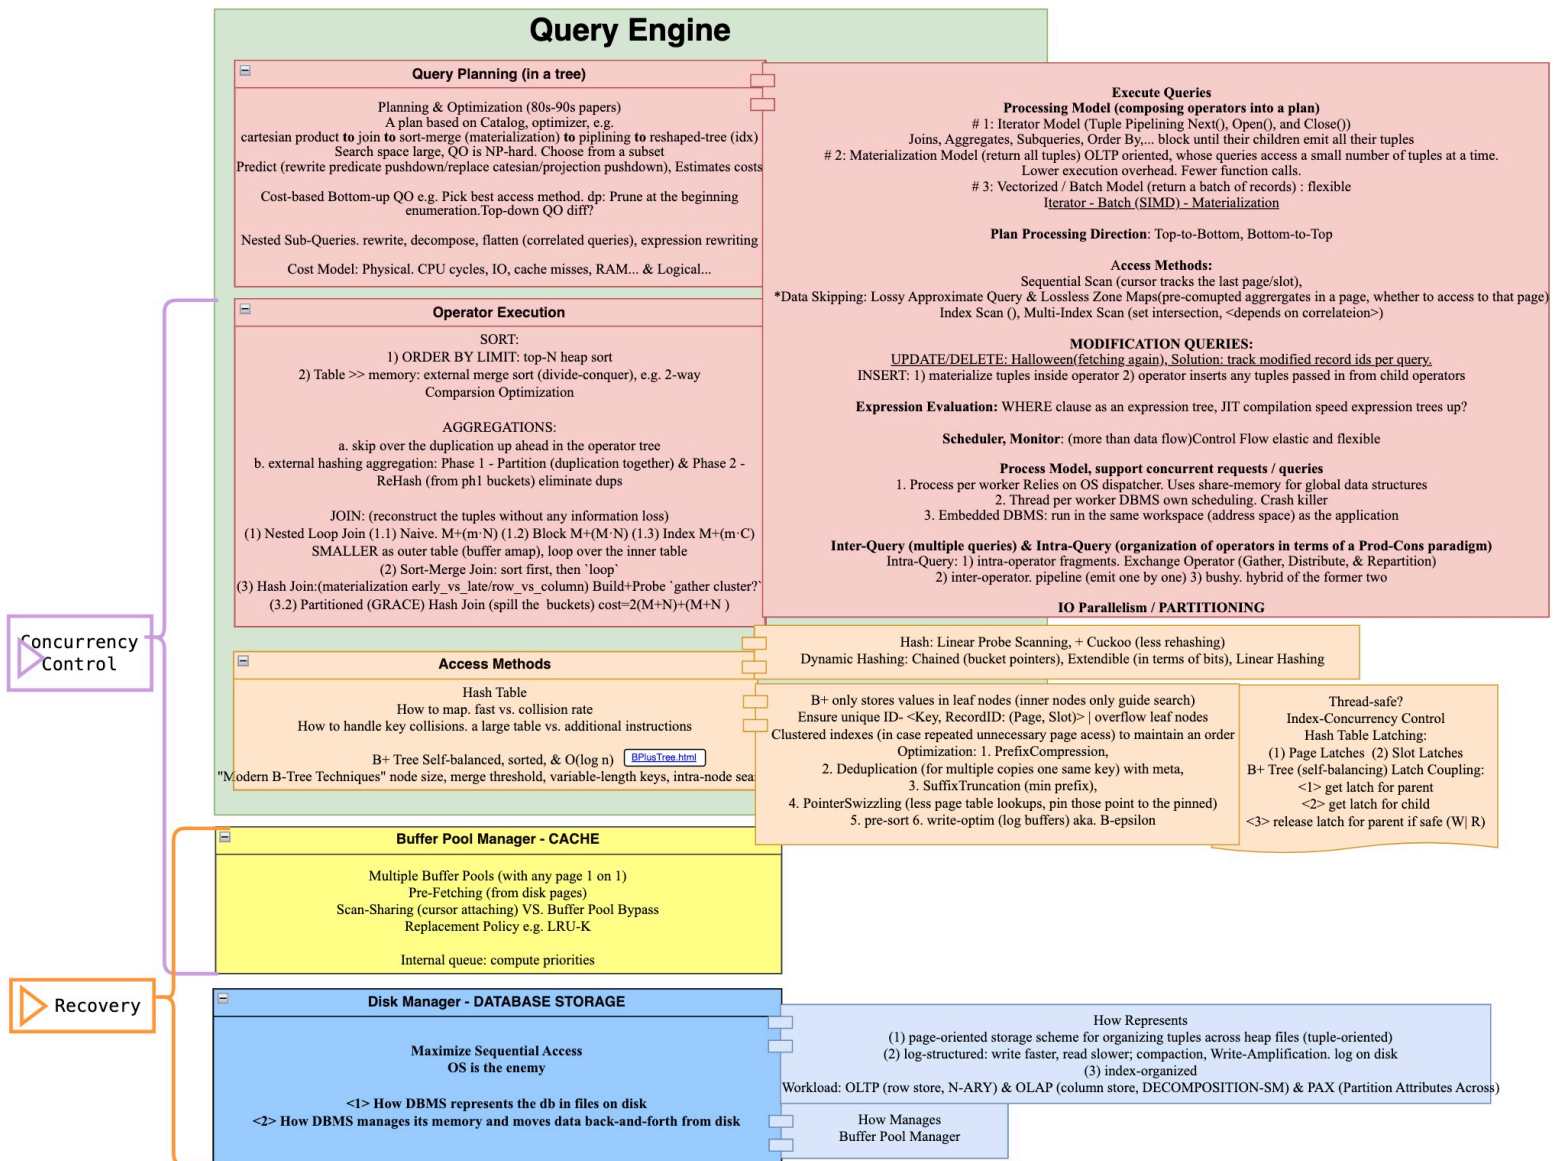

Figure 1: Course lec#1 - lec#14 Overview